

Yard Operative

Russwood Limited are a progressive and ambitious company supplying high quality, responsibly sourced timber cladding, decking and flooring to both the domestic and trade sectors in the UK.

Our success has been built on our reputation for quality products and excellent technical expertise and our continued growth means we are now looking for additional staff to join our team.

Reporting to the Operations Director, the Yard Operative role offers an opportunity for somebody who is enthusiastic and hardworking to join our experienced Yard team within the Yard, Sawmill, Planing Mill or Paint Departments.

Most importantly you will be able to demonstrate your willingness to learn and to develop a working knowledge and level of expertise in the production of our timber products and systems. Adherence to Health and Safety procedures and policies and a positive outlook to working alongside other team members is a must.

Based in our production area in Newtonmore, PH20 1AR, your responsibilities will include:

- Processing orders in production for customers accurately and timeously
- Ensure order deadlines are met in line with Supervisors instructions within allocated production areas
- Adherence to all Health and Safety procedures for yourself and colleagues

Experience with production equipment, heavy lifting equipment or construction would be advantageous however full training will be given. Salary will be competitive with access to bonus and company pension scheme.

Full job description and further company information is available on our website, www.russwood.co.uk Apply by emailing: kate.fleming@russwood.co.uk. Please enclose a full CV and brief covering letter outlining your interest in this role.